

Spreading Smiles...

Jindal Steel & Power's take on CSR is the practical application of the concept of sustainable development by business organisations. Businesses have always taken care of their natural and social environments, to greater or lesser degrees. The new facet is to gather these activities together under the conceptual umbrella of CSR.

The company's CSR objective further gets reiterated through the company's vision "To be a globally admired organisation that enhances the quality of life through sustainable industrial and business development."

The CSR policy aims at bringing about a radical transformation in the quality of life of people living in and around the operation areas of the company through positive intervention in social upliftment programs.
