

INGENUITY IN MOVING LIVES

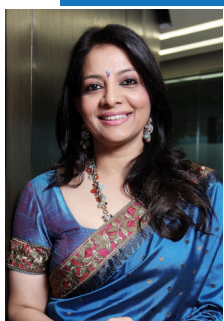

Our environment more than deserves our deepest commitment. We believe we should look at this issue with all the expertise that we lavish on business.

Planting trees, for example, is a classic investment. It pays rich dividends for the planet. Education is another and brings in great wealth of all kinds by opening doors for people.

Our expertise is movement, and we practice it as an art as much as we do a science. When one practices the superior dynamics of movement as a professional power, it becomes obvious that the expertise that facilitates one kind of movement most certainly can be applied to any other kind.

Our company believes that our talent, expertise and resources can also be wonderfully utilised to bring great transformations in the lives of people. Our commitment and contribution to all our communities will always exceed the contributions mandated to corporates.

To move people up in life by moving them out of the situations they are hemmed in, and into a better level of personal living and professional possibility, is, we believe, the noblest moving our company could ever do.

"I believe, as capable human beings it is our responsibility and duty to extend our hand to everyone in need, to make one's life more enriching, healthy, educated, full of hope and dreams. Everyone can make a lasting difference if we just try to do something extra for someone who needs guidance."

Maitree reaches out to a large number of families from under-developed and tribal regions to be part of this initiative. School children are encouraged to be ambassadors of the programme and they are trained to ensure Maitree flourishes.

Fast-growing fruit trees like Custard Apple, Guava, Chikoo, Mangoes, Bananas and Oranges are taking root in the areas of Jawahar, Mokhada, Khalapur, Karjat, Mumbai and Uran. Over 2,39,000 fruit bearing trees have been planted by over 4,500 beneficiaries in the last two years.
