HPPI has been working towards bringing a positive change in people's lives through implementation of scalable projects aimed at transferring knowledge, skills and capacity to individuals and communities to help them come out of poverty. So far, HPPI has implemented more than 150 projects all over the country in the areas of education, livelihood and community development, health, environmental sustainability and microfinance.

Improving Livelihood through a Holistic Approach

Most projects implemented by HPPI under the CSR program of a company have a holistic approach and often includes several activities under health, education of the out of school children in the vicinity of the corporate plant, women literacy and skill training of youth, tree-planting, cleaning drives and establishment of nutritional gardens.

Projects always starts with a need assessment, where the local needs are identified and the final design of the project is decided. Thereafter, timeline for implementing activities and budgets are agreed upon together with the partner including plans for monitoring, evaluation and reporting schedules.

Typically a project is implemented in the same area for a period of 3-5 years, with annual budgets agreed, in order to achieve impact and sustainable development.
